WEEKLY COMMUNICATIONS

1 COVID UPDATE

- As a reminder, the CDPH has updated its guidance on quarantine and isolation rules. If you haven't had a chance to read RCSD's notification regarding this change in guidance sent to families on January 18, click here.
- We recognize that COVID-19 rapid tests are hard to find right now. The national government has launched a program to offer up to 4 free at-home tests to every American household. Sign up to receive your free at-home tests through the USPS website. Orders will ship in 7-12 days.
- As a reminder, if your student is positive for COVID-19, when reporting your student's absence to school, please make sure to include your student's positive test date and symptom onset date along with their name and your contact. This information is critical in helping our school site teams monitor exposures. Thank you for assisting us with this!

2 2022-23 REGISTRATION

- Due to the spike in COVID-19 cases, RCSD will be CANCELLING the January 25 Registration Night. However, RCSD will still have future Registration Nights on February 17, March 16, and April 20.
- The deadline is fast approaching to complete any inter/intra transfer or virtual academy enrollment requests during the priority registration period. The priority registration window closes on January 28, 2022.

3 2022-23 SCHOOL DAY START TIMES

- As mentioned last week, for the 2022-23 school year, RCSD start times are required to be adjusted to meet new state law. For the 2022-23 school year, RCSD elementary schools will start between 7:40-7:45 am and middle schools will begin at 8:05 am. More information will be provided later in the spring related to transportation routes and end times.
